AIR MEET ASSEMBLED 24 PLANES IN BRAINERD

ATTENDANCE COMES CLOSE TO 18,000

AIR MEET INTERNATIONAL IN ASPECT WITH BRITISH TRAIN- ING SHIP PRESENT

"SPEED" HOLMAN AND CAPTAIN GEORGE BABCOCK THRILL CROWDS

The Brainerd Air Meet of Saturday and Sunday scored an immense hit and brought an attendance, as near as can be estimated, of 18,000 people. The airport dedication was accomplished without mishaps.

At the dinner tendered aviators by J. O. Engel, general manager of the Air Meet, and A. P. Nelson, sales manager of the Northwest Airways, Inc., many expressions were heard of the good qualities of the air field, and that it is one of the best of the state outside the Twin Cities and the pilots, including the Navy representatives and L. W. Chandler of the Minnesota Aircraft Company complimented the Rosko Brothers on the layout and development of the field.

At the Air Meet Sunday afternoon Mayor Frank E. Little of Brainerd added further appreciation.

The field was given a thorough test of its capabilities in Sunday's flying when it housed 22 planes and two huge tri-motored passenger planes, the latter two from Northwest Airways and Universal Air Lines, and all these were practically in operation at one time.

The Air Meet assumed an international aspect with the arrival of Bill Streight of Winnipeg, Canada, who came with a brand new British training ship and was accompanied by his wife. The plane was a DeHavilland-Moth, with slotted wings.

R. J. Sergeant, flying an American Eagle Kinner motored plane, flew from Duluth.

E. W. Luhrs, St. Paul, flew a Travelair.

Jimmy Zarth, flew a Travelair owned by Gust Imm of Fergus Falls.

Lieut. Frank E. Weld and Lieut. M. D. Crawford flew two Navy planes.

Capt. Jack Malone and Lieut. Joe Ohrbeck flew two Army planes, latest type of Douglas Army ships with Liberty motors.

A. M. Sampson, Wahpeton, N. D., flew a new Waco 10.

F. E. Eastlee flew a Travelair from Minneapolis.

Rosko Brothers had their plane, a Waco 10, on the field.

Herbert Webb and F. Billings of Beacon Airways, Kansas City, Mo., flew a Vellie Monocoupe.

Lieutenant Carl Leuthe of St. Paul flew an Eaglerock, representing the Minnesota Aircraft Co.

Bill Klink of Baudette flew an American Eagle.

Paul Minar of Red Lake Falls piloted a new Waco.

Gust Imm of Fergus Falls, who had a ship entered early in the meet, flew in with a second plane, a Curtiss Robin.

Delmar Snyder, sales manager of the Universale Air Lines, flew in with a new Curtiss Robin monoplane.

Alvin Opsahl, who took Captain George Babcock up for his parachute drops, came to the meet in a Jenny.

Lieutenant Tom Lane of the Universal Air Lines, flew a Fairchild Cabin monoplane, equipped with pontoons and landed at Rice Lake, Lum Park, and then motored to the city and attended the aviation dinner at the Ransford hotel.

"Speed" Holman flew to the meet Saturday evening from Minneapolis to Brainerd in 40 minutes. He left Minneapolis Wold-Chamberlain field at 5:45 P. M. and arrived at the Rosko field at 6:25 P. M., and upon approaching the field at a height of 100 feet rolled into an upside down position and flew in that position two miles.

He piloted a Waco gold and black tapered-wing plane powered with a Whirlwind motor, a ship that will be used for emergency on new night air mail trips between the Twin Cities and Chicago.

A Minneapolis flier with a Command Air flew in late Saturday evening.

C. C. Ingraham, chief engineer of the Carter Mayhew Manufacturing Co. of Minneapolis flew a Waco.

Bill Meyers of Rosko Brothers, who is taking flying instruction and finished up with the Northwest Airways, Inc., acted as flight director in a very capable manner.

In the balloon bursting contest first prize was won by Art Sampson of Wahpeton, N. D., flying a new Waco; second prize went to Carl Leuthe of the Minnesota Aircraft Co. of St. Paul flying an Eaglerock; third prize to A. Klinek of Baudette flying an American Eagle.

Arden Miller won first prize in the kite flying contest, $2.50 cash and a trip in the Northwest Airways' tri-motor. Jack Doepke won second prize, a trip in the same tri-motor.

The Northwest Airways, Inc., tri-motored plane gave complimentary rides to the Brainerd Ladies Band members, who sponsored the Air Meet.

Boy Scouts assisting at the field, Mayor Frank E. Little and son, Chief of Police Thomas Templeton, Deputy Sheriff Charles W. Oberg and others. The huge passenger plane during its stay in Brainerd was piloted by Walter Bullock.

Stunt Flying

Various planes stunted, but the chief attraction was Speed Holman who went through his whole category of air tricks, flying upside down hanging

KEELEY CURE IS BEING GIVEN FIRST TIME TO WOMEN

Dwight Hill, July 22.—(UP)—"Keeley Cure" is being given to women as well as to men for the first time in the Keeley Institute's history, Martin Nelson, its secretary revealed today.

Heretofore only male inebriates were admitted to the institution. Now, "owing to increased habitual intoxication among women," according to Nelson, it has become necessary to erect a separate building for feminine patients. The "White Collar" class Nelson disclosed, now yields more subjects for "the cure" than does the working class.

NEGRO POLITICAL PARTY IS THE AIM OF CONG. DE PRIEST

ADDRESSES SEVERAL HUNDRED CONSTITUENTS OF CHICAGO "BLACK BELT"

PLEADS WITH MEMBERS OF HIS RACE TO "OR- GANIZE"

Chicago, July 22.—(UP)—A negro political party is the dream of Representative Oscar De Priest, only colored congressman.

Addressing several hundred of his constituents from Chicago's "black belt," De Priest pleaded with members of his race to "organize."

"If you can't do it," he declared, "I'll show you. I know how."

"I'm in Washington to serve my race. I haven't even begun to fight. I've come here to find fault with you. You are unaccomplished politically. You've got to fight your own battles—no one else will fight them for you."

Reviewing his own record, the man whose wife created such turmoil when she accepted an invitation to a White House tea, boasted he was "the only one of 435 congressmen to appoint a negro to West Point or Annapolis." He said he would name even more negroes to the academies.

EXCHANGES STAR AND GUN FOR PRISONER'S UNIFORM

Wink, Tex., July 22.—(UP)—Chief of Police Robert Williams has exchanged his star and gun for a prisoner's uniform.

And it's all because he arrested an old-time friend of Oklahoma penitentiary days.

The man he picked up happened to mention he and the chief were "buddies" in the "big gray house."

The arrested one escaped, was apprehended, then "spilled the beans."

The result was that Chief Williams was revealed as Joseph Roebuck, who escaped the Oklahoma prison in 1915.

Coming to Wink, he joined the police force as a patrolman. Then he rose to chief.

Today the chief again is known by a number, instead of a name.

by his belt, made inverted spins, loops, glides, etc.

Captain George Babcock demonstrated his efficiency in the delayed opening parachute drops, falling from 400 to 800 feet before pulling the rip cord. In a spot landing made Sunday afternoon he "parachuted" within 20 feet of the point marked.

Prize Awards Made

Sunday afternoon, Edward Shurick, master of ceremonies at the field, presented prizes to the three winning contestants in the Carnival of the Sky State Fair contest.

To Miss Margaret Anderson, "Miss Minnesota" was awarded a silver cup and a check for $300. To "Miss St. Paul" (Miss Gusie Townsend) was awarded a check for $100 and to "Miss Canby" (Miss Enga Munson) was awarded a check for $50. Miss St. Paul and Miss Canby will be members of the court of Miss Minnesota at the coming State Fair.

Brainerd Ladies Band

The Brainerd Ladies Band drew praise from all quarters. In addition to playing 14 towns in four nights, in preparation for the Air Meet, they played at the Air Meet Sunday afternoon and Saturday evening on Sixth Street, where they made a tremendous hit with their bright new uniforms in which they appeared for the first time in Brainerd. Many favorable comments were heard on their playing and marching ability and the snappy costumes. Mrs. Winifred Cronk Ziebell thanked the people for their interest and appreciation.

Aviation Dinner

The aviation dinner at the Ransford drew a large attendance of aviators and others interested in aviation and local members of the Chamber of Commerce. John A. Hoffbauer was toastmaster.

Speakers included C. A. Ryan, president of the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce; Rev. C. E. Brandon, Joe Westover of the Universal Air Lines operating aviation schools and air-

Missouri-Robin Halts Endurance Flight; But Sister Ship, St. Louis-Robin, Passes 218 Hours

BAD LEAK IN OIL LINE IS TROUBLESOME

HAMMER AND GENTRY BROKEN HEARTED OVER THE LANDING

OTHER ENDURANCE MARATHONS AT SHREVEPORT AND TEXAS

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—(UP)—A bad leak in an oil line, which smeared the windows of the Missouri-Robin monoplane and seriously hampered vision, ended the plane's endurance flight here today at 117 hours and 20 minutes.

Its sister-ship, the St. Louis Robin, however, roared on as if unable to break a habit, and crossed the 218th hour mark apparently as fresh as when it started at 7:17 A. M. a week ago last Saturday.

Joseph Hammer, air mail pilot, and W. Gentry Shelton, St. Louis sportsman who piloted the Missouri-Robin were aerially broken hearted at their landing.

But their immediately found words of praise and encouragement for Dale "Red" Jackson, barrel-roll specialist, and Forrest O'Brien, war time flyer, who have kept the St. Louis-Robin in the air for nine full days.

"They'll make it," Hammer said, referring to the fact that the St. Louis-Robin has to stay aloft only until 2:06 P. M. tomorrow to equal the record of the California plane, Angeleno, which set a mark of 246 hours, 43 minutes.

The almost monotonous manner in which Jackson and O'Brien are pounding out the hours has won the admiration of the St. Louis municipal opera, a civic enterprise, who announced they would match "dollar for hour" if a record is established here.

It is planned to make a gala public presentation of the award at the Al Fresco municipal theater in Forest Park, a 1,700 acre preserve near the exclusive residential section of the city. If the men stay up 300 hours, they each will be presented with $300.

Shreveport, La., July 22.—Nearing the half way mark toward the record of more than 246 hours established by the "Angeleno" in Culver City, Calif., recently two Shreveport fliers in their Ryan endurance monoplane "KWKH" circled over Shreveport airport today. Flying conditions were almost perfect.

At 1:50 P. M. McCrory Sanders and Van Leary, pilots, will have guided their plane past the half way mark.

Houston, Texas, July 22.—G. L. Loomis and Joe Glass, entrants in the refueling endurance marathon that is being conducted in Houston, Shreveport and St. Louis, passed their 115th hour in the air at 8:49:54 A. M. today.

60 PERSONS THOUGHT DROWNED WHEN SHIPS CRASH

Tokio, July 22.—(UP)—Sixty persons were believed to have drowned today when the Chinese Steamer Hsinking sank off Shantung after colliding with the Japanese Freighter Tatsuno Maru.

The sinking boat carried a total of 180 persons. The Tatsuno Maru rescued 120 and cruised for four hours seeking the others without result. It was believed all the drowned were Chinese, many of whom are unable to swim. The collision occurred at 1:30 p. m. in a dense fog. The Hsinking sank rapidly.

The Tatsuno Maru, a Nippon Yusenkaisha line freighter, was slightly damaged and proceeded to Dairen.

Seoul, Korea, July 22.—(UP)—Scores were missing after a ferryboat capsized in the Tumen river, Kanyo Province, today. Four bodies were recovered.

WAINWRIGHT, ALBERTA, IN FIRE RUINS

$1,000,000 FIRE SUNDAY COM- PLETELY DESTROYED BUSI- NESS SECTION

LARGE PART OF RESIDENTIAL SECTION ALSO PREY TO FLAMES

Winnipeg, Man., July 22.—(UP)—Wainwright, Alberta, lay in smoldering ruins today after a $1,000,000 fire Sunday completely destroyed the business district and a large part of the residential section.

Like the famous Chicago conflagration the fire was believed to have originated in a stable and, fanned by a 70-mile gale, leveled 90 buildings before it was brought under control.

Mayor M. L. Forster, who estimated the loss at $1,000,000, today aided the scores of homeless in the discouraging task of rebuilding a new city on the ashes of the old settlement.

COAST GUARDSMEN SEEK BODY OF ILL FATED CANOEIST

SEEK BODY OF ILL FATED CANOEIST

BACHO-SACHO'S TROOPS FIGHT BLOODY BATTLE

Cleveland, O., July 22.—(UP)—Coast guardsmen today sought the body of Frank Kolovich, 20, of Shamokin, Pa., in Lake Erie here. Kolovich was drowned when the canoe in which he was riding was smashed to bits in a collision with the passenger steamer City of Buffalo. Josephine Toil, 22, and her brother, Max, 20, other occupants of the canoe, were rescued.

Peshawar, India, July 22.—(UP)—Battered reports from Afghanistan stated today that 600 of the troops of Bacho-Sacho, king of Afghanistan, had been killed and much of his ammunition and arms captured in a fierce 16-hour battle which began in July between the royal forces and the followers of former King Amanullah.

former King Amanullah.

Wreck in Which Nine Died

One minute the crack Colorado express was speeding over the rails on its fast trip from Chicago to Denver, and the next it was a tangled jumble of wreckage. Submerged in water is seen the top of the Pullman coach in which nine persons were trapped and killed. Forty other passengers on the train were injured. The wreck was caused when bridge supports over a creek near Stratton, Col., gave way.

DR. HERMANMUELLER IN GRAVE CONDITION AFTER OPERATION

Heidelberg, Germany, July 22.—(UP)—Dr. Hermann Mueller, Chancellor of the German Reich, was still in a grave condition today after an operation had been performed for an inflamed gall bladder.

The Chancellor's condition during the night remained critical, but Professor Eberlein of Heidelberg, the supervising physician, told the United Press representative that "the patient's condition was as good as might be expected under the circumstances, after such a serious operation."

ENGLAND'S MARK ASSAILED BY GERMAN SHIP

COMMERCIAL VESSEL ATLANTIC RECORD YIELDS TO MODERN SHIPBUILDING

GERMAN SHIP BREMEN CHURNS DOWN ATLANTIC TOWARDS NEW YORK HARBOR

New York, July 22.—(UP)—The 22-year-old record which England has held for crossing of the Atlantic by a commercial vessel, was yielding to modern shipbuilding today as the new German vessel, Bremen, churned down the Atlantic towards New York harbor.

Through fog banks, diverging channel streams and other maritime hold-backs, the Bremen has plunged toward the United States at such a rate of speed she may make the Atlantic crossing in four days, 18 hours and 18 minutes.

That will put this new vessel—strange in design compared with the trim Mauretania which has held the trans-Atlantic speed crossing record since it went into service in 1907—into New York dock at about 6:30 P. M. (EDT).

The 22-year-old record started slipping when the Bremen eased from her pier Wednesday and headed out across the Atlantic. The day's longest mileage record for a westward crossing was held by the Mauretania at 676 miles. Friday the Bremen steamed 704 miles and Sunday she did 705 miles.

So fast is the big liner travelling that a passenger can take two turns about her quarterdeck and find the vessel still six miles farther advanced toward New York, according to a radio message to the North German Lloyd Lines here.

A wireless message received at the North German Lloyd offices here at 10 A. M. from the captain of the Bremen said plans were completed to catapult an air mail plane from the deck of the ship when she is about 100 miles from New York. The plane will be launched in the air at 1 P. M. at some point off Fire Island, and should arrive at Pier 4, Brooklyn, an hour later, the message said.

The steady progress of the liner was continued today, officials of the North German Lloyd Lines announced, and at 7:50 A. M. (EDT) the vessel passed the Nantucket lightship.

POLISH FLIER IS RECOVERING FROM INJURIES RECEIVED

Warsaw, July 22.—(UP)—Radio messages from the Polish training ship Iskra stated today that the Polish flier, Caimir Kubla, was nearing complete recovery from the injuries he suffered in the accident in the Azores Islands when the plane in which he was attempting to cross the Atlantic crashed. His companion, Louis Idzikowski, was killed.

BERGER BELIEVED ON ROAD TO RECOVERY

MILWAUKEE, JULY 22.—(UP)—Victor L. Berger, former congressman and veteran socialist leader, is believed on the road to recovery his physicians announced.

Mr. Berger, who suffered a fractured skull and other injuries when struck by a street car several days ago, is conscious only at intervals, however.

SLAYER TO BE EXAMINED AS TO HIS SANITY

Madison, Wis., July 22.—(UP)—The slaying of Godfrey Kruger of Minneapolis, by Ralph Le Roy Erhart, his cellmate in the city jail brought a charge of first degree murder and a sanity examination today for Erhart. The murder occurred yesterday.

"I don't like the smell of him so I finished him," was the only explanation from the slayer.

HOURS PASSING, NO AGGRESSION ON EITHER SIDE

SITUATION ALONG BORDER BE- TWEEN MANCHURIA AND RUSSIA DANGEROUS

TROOPS OF BOTH NATIONS ARE MASSSED THERE READY FOR ATTACK

(By United Press)

Hope for peaceful settlement of the dispute between China and Russia increased in world capitals today as the hours passed without definite report of serious aggression on either side.

The situation along the border between Manchuria and Soviet territory continued dangerous, however, with troops of both nations massed against attack. Neither side apparently had opened hostilities, and reports of invasion and other aggressive acts were not confirmed.

Through traffic on the Chinese Eastern railway, the all-important link with the trans-Siberian and Europe, remained interrupted. The Chinese continued strengthening their control of the railroad by further removal of Russian workers.

The existing crisis arose when the Chinese took over the railroad joint control of which was vested by treaty in China and Russia.

China justified her action in a manifesto by the national government at Nanking, accusing the Soviet of "a sinister plot to disrupt her rights."

Since both nations have declared their intention of abiding by the Kellogg treaty against war, the efforts of the interested world powers towards peace were based on a hopeful foundation.

Moves for a compromise, as far as they have progressed, centered in Washington after Secretary of State Stimson's formal warning to the powers of their obligations under the Kellogg treaty.

The French ambassador, Paul Claudel, acted for Russia in conveying with the Chinese minister in the absence of a Soviet representative there.

It was considered likely in Berlin that if Russia and China reply favorably to Stimson's note, that the board of conciliation provided by the Kellogg treaty would meet in the German capital. Germany is considered by Russia to be her most suitable intermediary in such an event.

A peaceful statement was issued by General Chang Hsueh-Liang, military governor of Manchuria, to the United Press, whose Peking correspondent arrived at Mukden en route to the zone of activity. Chang was making no warlike preparations until advised to do so by Nanking.

By RANDALL GOULD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Shanghai, July 22.—Simultaneous with reports from Manchuria that Soviet troops had fired into Chinese territory and that five Russian bombing planes had overflown Chinese troops concentrated at the frontier, the Nanking government issued a manifesto to the powers of the world claiming self-defense in its action against the Soviet Union and restoration of its intention to live up to the spirit of the Kellogg pact.

Reports of Russia's activities along the border came from General Chang Hsueh-Liang, the young war lord of Manchuria, who arrived at Mukden to take command of China's armies along the threatened frontier. General Chang stated that Soviet troops fired at Pogranichnaya, at the eastern border point of the Chinese Eastern railway.

(This report is at variance with an earlier statement given by General Chang Hsueh-Liang to the United Press correspondent at Mukden.)

Subsequently, General Chang stated five Soviet planes flew over Chinese territory, at a point where Chinese troops were concentrated. The Chinese troops were instructed not to return the fire.

The manifesto, issued by the Chinese government to the powers who have interested themselves in the current trouble between China and Russia, alleged that documents found and seized at the Russian consulate was to promote the destruction of China's military arrangements.

It charged Russia with hypocrisy, in accordance with "the usual Soviet tactics of imposing upon the world by means of prevarication and fabrication." It alleged further that a sinister plot was bared to usurp Chinese rights and to violate the Russo-Chinese treaty.

Dr. C. T. Wang, foreign minister of the Nanking government, issued a statement deprecating the "alarmist press," at the same time stating the Chinese government was not inimical, but friendly, to the Soviet government.

The minister added, however, that the Chinese republic was determined to wipe out communistic propaganda from China wherever it was found and at whatever cost.

"The present Soviet attitude," the minister said, compelled the Chinese government to take precautionary defensive measures. This is not to be interpreted that we abandoned the hope of settling the dispute peacefully."

Miss Marjorie Forsberg was winner for first place at the District Epworth League Bible story telling contest last Friday at the Arrowhead Epworth League Institute at Barnum. Miss Forsberg's story was entitled "Ruth." She will go to the annual conference at Eveleth this fall to compete with the winners of the other three districts of the conference for first place, which will entitle the winner to a scholarship at Hamline university for one year.

Among others from Brainerd who attended the Epworth League conference were Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Kufus and children, Miss Augusta Welch, Mrs. G. E. Senn, Miss Violet Green, Miss Irma Green, and Miss Clarice Halvorson. Rev. Kufus was one of the instructors at the institute. His subject was "Church School Methods." He was also elected a member of the Epworth League Institute commission for next year.

FAMILY PICNIC
Was Held Sunday at Bert Sabin Home on Mission Lake

A very enjoyable occasion was a "family" picnic Sunday at the Bert Sabin home on Mission Lake in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dade of Hartford, Mich., and Mr. and Mrs. Joe W. Russell and son Roland and daughter Eleanor of East Orange, N. J., who are visiting relatives here. About 40 guests were present among whom were the following: Mrs. Power, Chicago; Mrs. George Ramsey, Jr., Ellsberg; Mr. and Mrs. George Ramsey, Sr., Sylvan; Mr. and Mrs. A. Dade and son Clifford of Gull River; Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fisher, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Palmer and family, Mrs. Mary Palmer, W. A. Palmer, Mrs. Cora Cook, Miss Mayme Britton, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Pearl Winter all of Brainerd; and Oliver Cook of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Holcombe, Sauk Center.

The day was spent in boating, swimming, getting acquainted with new relatives and visiting of others, many of whom had not met for 20 or more years, the principal occasion of the day being the eating of a delicious dinner which was served picnic fashion on the lake shore.

BRAINERD 25 YEARS AGO

From the Daily Dispatch

July 22, 1904

J. F. Hawkins, who was one of the first men to announce his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Crow Wing county, has withdrawn from the race, on account of business reasons.

John Rappel, 18 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rappel, died this morning after an illness of several weeks with typhoid. The funeral will be held from St. Francis church on Sunday morning.

M. K. Schwartz, the druggist, has built a pretty summer cottage on the north shore of Lake Gilbert which he has christened "Oak Dale." A small stable has been built close to the country road at the rear of the house. The cottage will soon be occupied by the Schwartz family, who intend to have as their first guests the ladies of the Eastern Star.

Chas. Moth, the big wrestler, arrived in the city this afternoon from St. Paul and is making arrangements to meet Moxie the big Swede this evening at the Brainerd opera house.

Robert Maghan, county commissioner from the fifth district is a candidate for re-election.
Miss Onolee McCullough returned this afternoon from Louisville, Ky., where she has been the guest of friends for some time.

Word was received today that the big packers' strike has been renewed in Chicago. Three thousand cattle butchers reported at the stock yards for work but only one half were given work, whereupon all refused to work and reported in a body at union headquarters. A general order for the renewal of the strike was then issued.

25TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carlson Entertain Group of Friends on Occasion

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carlson, 318 South Eleventh street, celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary at their home on Saturday evening.

The enjoyable evening was spent socially and enjoying the radio program. About 35 guests were present. Those from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Almquist and son Oscar of Eveleth, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nordstrom and children of Hibbing, nephew; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Watkins and son Robert of Cloquet, cousin; Miss Gunhild Wetterkrantz and Harold Dadin of Eveleth. The other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Leonard and children, Mrs. Esther Westerholm and children, Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson and children, Mrs. Jennie Nordstrom and daughter, Mrs. Bertha Westerholm and John Westerholm of the city, Mr. and Mrs. Carlson were presented with a number of lovely gifts.

At the close of the evening, a luncheon was served.

Skunk: Family

A civet cat is more correctly called the little striped skunk. It is smaller than the genuine skunk. The end hair is short, thick and dark. The top hair is silky and black with white stripes or patches. There is also a Chinese civet, belonging to the civet family. Its fur is heavy and quite silky, but the color varies and is spotted.

WORLD'S WORST STOMACH ACHE

GRAVE FEAR ENTERTAINED FOR LIFE OF "BIG SAMSON," HUGE PYTHON

Canton, O., July 22. — (UP) — The world's worst stomach ache today caused grave fear for the life of "Big Samson," 32 feet of python snake valued at $100 a foot.

The stomach ache caused veterinarians to hang their heads in defeat. They feared to risk an operation. Consequently Samson was boarded up and shipped to the Cincinnati zoo where more expert services may be obtained.

Samson's stomach ache is result of his greed. Fed only once in every few weeks he naturally was hungry when his keepers elected to feed him a pigeon last Friday. The bird was tossed into the cage and the huge snake glided for it eagerly.

In the cage was a large red Indian blanket, to protect Samson from the cold nights he had been experiencing. The pigeon hid behind the blanket but Samson swallowed both.

Ever since there has been a huge bulge where the blanket rests in a cage.

FIERCEST FIGHTERS AT LAST CONQUERED

Yaquis of Mexico Finally Accept Fate.

Mexico City.—Mexico's fiercest warriors, the Yaquis, have at last agreed to be commanded by non-Yaqui leaders. For 400 years—800 under Spanish rule, 100 under Mexican—the Yaquis maintained their independence, refusing to be conquered. Beaten at the end by the government, with their country in ruins, they now go one step further in becoming Mexicanized by their acceptance of a "foreign" commander.

Four hundred Yaqui soldiers are at Port Perote, a mountain near Orizaba, in the state of Vera Cruz. This is the group which for the first time in history has submitted to a non-Indian leader. The war office's announcement of a change in the organization of this Yaqui force was regarded as signifying the disappearance of Yaquis as separate units. Hereafter they will be part of the army. Colonel Enrique Morfin Figueroa has been assigned to the group under the new arrangement.

Manzo Conqueror of Yaquis.
The actual conqueror of the Yaquis was Gen. Francisco Manzo, one of the leaders of the present rebellion who recently crossed the United States border at Nogales to escape falling into federal hands. The Manzo campaign against the Yaquis, undertaken three years ago, was organized with 13,000 troops and equipment which included nine airplanes.

At that time the Yaquis controlled a region extending 100 miles north of Guaymas, in Sonora, and which included some of the best lands in the republic. The stretch under Yaqui ownership extended along the Yaqui river valley in a district larger than the Imperial valley of California and with water resources three times as great as those of the Imperial valley.

Today the only Yaqui country left in Yaqui power is in the Bacatete mountains. But the power is small. All the warriors are gone or killed. Women and children and old men predominate in the last citadel.

As in the present revolution, the rebel Indians in Yaquiland lost their fight partly through the government's use of the most modern arm of war—the airplane. The blue planes that Manzo had on his front flew constantly over Yaqui territory building and spreading terror. The federal planes drove the inhabitants of Bacatete, the capital, into the mountains and finally destroyed it.

Planes Aided in Conquest.

Ammunition ran low after the war had raged incessantly for many months, the plane raids continued unceasingly, and finally, cut off from the world and beleaguered from the air, the Yaquis surrendered. Their surrender, however, was conditional. They agreed to take service in the Mexican army provided their own chief, General Ignacio Mori, should be permitted to continue as their head.

Their liberty curtailed by the rigid discipline of the army, the Yaquis were not always good soldiers, although their valor in fighting was unquestioned. The group at Perote was for this reason perhaps little better off than prisoners.

The Yaquis still preserve their ancient language and customs. Although they are Christians, in common with other Indian tribes of Mexico, they have mixed the symbols of Catholicism with the signs of the old gods.

While the Mexican government had to all but exterminate them in order to pacify them, it seems likely that the Yaqui fighting tradition which has existed for 400 years will continue in Mexican memory at least for a long time to come.

Old Hiding Place.

The bed of the Mattaponi river near Richmond, Va., has revealed an Indian dugout believed by members of the Pamunkey tribe to be three hundred years old.

Shades of Leander

Famed for its heavy cross tides and treacherous currents, the Hellespont defied swimmers up to the time of the mythical Leander of Greece. Then came Lord Byron and later Richard Halliburton. Several college students performed the feat last year. Now three college girls have beaten the channel, Lucy Hancock, of University, Va., from Vassar, and two Smith College girls, Eleanor Stutley of Wellesley, Mass., and Eugene Paterson, above, also of Wellesley, Mass. The three girls are on an Aegean cruise.

Plan Home, Then Look for Suitable Location

In considering a site for your own home it is best that your lot be at least 40 feet wide.

A lot narrower than this does not permit a proper distance between buildings, and cuts off the necessary amount of air and light. A reasonable space is also necessary in order to guard against spread of fire from one building to another. A lot that is too narrow necessitates a certain type of house—one that is long and narrow, and this is not usually the most attractive style.

On the other hand, a lot that is too wide is a source of unnecessary labor and expense. There will be more terrace or curb lawn to care for and a longer expanse of sidewalk to build and keep clean. The assessment for street improvements is also estimated from the number of feet frontage.

A lot should not be selected that is too shallow for a few outbuildings, a clothes yard and a small space for vegetables or flowers. The buyer of a lot should always bear in mind the possibility of some day selling, and should select a site which will appear attractive to others. If possible, choose a lot with some shade trees on it, but do not make the mistake of buying quick-growing trees which will "afterward prove a nuisance."

Be careful to select a lot on the most favorable side of the street. Notice whether the morning or the afternoon sun will shine in the rooms where you most desire it or vice versa. Will your front porch be cool in the afternoons; will your sleeping rooms have a good sweep of air?

Notice, too, whether factories or objectionable buildings are likely, in future, to be erected near enough to deprecate the value of your property. Many cities now have a system of zoning legislation which protects property owners from damage to property through the location of undesirable buildings. If such laws exist in your city you will be protected.

"Clinker Brick" Now Used for Buildings

Ten years ago the clinker brick, so-called because it frequently came out of the kiln with the fused appearance of a real furnace clinker, was a total loss to the manufacturer and usually was chucked into the rubbish heap or the dump. Today clinker brick are used in the construction of the most attractive brick houses and sell at a higher price than the run of kiln brick. The percentage in any kiln is small.

Watch Your Lumber

Home builders should be sure that the lumber they buy will require a minimum of carpenter work of planing, sawing and sorting.

Good Building Design for Family That Wants Bungalow Type Home

Many people prefer the bungalow type of home because of its greater convenience and arrangement, all on a single floor. When treated as this house has been treated a charming exterior appearance is also achieved with a suggestion of coziness.

By W. A. RADFORD

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF COST on all subjects pertaining to practical home building, for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as editor, author and manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only inclose two-cent stamp for reply.

Not so many years ago there originated in California a home building design that has since become very popular all over the United States. The bungalow type of home is preferred by many people because of the convenience of its room arrangement, the rooms being all on one floor. The climate of California made this design popular because it could be constructed cheaply, there being no necessity for a basement to house the heating plant, neither was there need for a tight weather-proof house.

Architects in every section of the country have improved upon the California design and now many thousands of bungalow homes built of all types of building materials are found in both cities and the smaller towns. The bungalow shown in the accompanying illustration is not a true bungalow for the reason that the pitch of the roof has been made such that there is space for two additional bedrooms and a bathroom on the attic floor. Set into the roof are two fan light dormer windows which are aided by the same type of windows in each of the gables. These provide light and ventilation in the attic in which has been partitioned off two bedrooms and the bathroom.

This home is of frame construction and has a basement the same size as the house proper, 26 feet by 32 feet. Set into one end is the sun porch with two sets of french windows on each side and french windows on either side of the french door opening off the brick steps and platform. The first floor contains four rooms, a large living room 12 feet 6 inches by 19 feet, a dining room 11 feet 6 inches by 14 feet and kitchen 11 feet 6 inches by 10 feet 6 inches, also a bedroom 11 feet 6 inches by 12 feet. The two bedrooms upstairs are about 12 feet square.

This is a good home building design for the family who wants a bungalow type home but who needs more bedrooms than are usually found when only the first floor is utilized. When surrounded by lawn and plantings as shown in the illustration it makes a most attractive home.

1200 CONVICTS REVOLT IN N. Y. STATE PRISON

BURN PRISON CARPENTER SHOP
AT DANMORA,
N. Y.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK POWER PLANT, MANY INJURED, SEVERAL KILLED

Danmora, N. Y., July 22.—(UP)—

Twelve hundred convicts in the state prison here revolted today, burned the prison carpenter shop, attempted to wreck the power plant, and rushed the walls in a desperate effort to escape. Many were injured and several killed, prison officials stated.

About twenty state troops were called in to aid guards in quelling the uprising, it was said.

Tear gas bombs were reported to have been brought into play.

The warden's office said this afternoon that as far as prison officials could ascertain only two convicts had been killed. Several others were hurt.

Four hundred of the rioting prisoners still were milling about inside the walls at 12:30 P. M. They were gradually being returned to their cells and little further difficulty was anticipated.

The troopers were under direction of Lieutenant J. B. Lynch, of the Malone barracks, who expected to increase the number to fifty if it should be necessary.

A detachment of soldiers from the 26th infantry and a unit of the city fire department were on their way from Plattsburgh to assist prison officials.

The riot started at 8 A. M. when the convicts were marched from the mess hall to the carpenter shop. As soon as they got inside the shop, they turned on their guards and set fire to the shop, which was destroyed.

Then they rushed out into the prison yard, some trying to scale the walls. Machine guns manned by the 124 guards kept them at bay, however, without a shot being fired.

FARM STOCK

IN MAKING AND FEEDING SILAGE

Best and Cheapest Form in Which to Store Feed.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Some important points to observe in the making and feeding of silage are discussed by live stock specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture in a revised edition of Farmers' Bulletin No. 578-F, "The Making and Feeding of Silage," which is now ready for distribution to interested persons.

"Silage," the authors of the bulletin say, "is the best and cheapest form in which to store succulent feed. Many forage crops can be made into silage; but corn, where it can be grown successfully, makes the best silage."

"Silage is suited for feeding to all live stock. Dairy cows, not on good pasture, need it perhaps more than other classes of animals, because the succulence it supplies is helpful in the production of large quantities of milk. It is a cheap and economical feed for beef cattle, from breeding cow to fattening steer. Sheep like it and it is well suited to their needs."

The Air Meet

THE Brainerd Air Meet, just closed, has put Brainerd on the map of the country. A total of 24 planes with their many pilots and other officials have tried out the field, landings, etc., become acquainted with this area of Central Minnesota and what it has to offer and the results gained will benefit the city in bringing much air travel of the future to this city.

Brainerd's proximity to the lake resorts and lake region will, as it has done in the case of the automobile, draw the airplane and its pleasure and recreation seekers to this territory.

With a regulation landing field at Brainerd for land planes and Lum park at Rice lake for seaplanes, Brainerd is now well provided to cater to air travel.

Speed Holman in a wonderful address at the aviation dinner mentioned the plans for a Twin Cities-Winnipeg air mail line and the opportunity presented to Brainerd to become a link in this line. That is something to be gained and every effort should be made by the city to become linked with this route.

The Air Meet was proud to receive the flier which made the meet an international affair. Bill Streight of Winnipeg, flew here with a new British training ship, a Haviland Moth, and was impressed with the field and the attendance of fliers and people.

The fact that the field was able to accommodate two huge trimotored passenger planes plus all the varieties of other planes speaks well as to condition and resources of the field and especially of the runways which carried well the innumerable takeoffs and landings made.

The Air Meet has drawn the attention of people, whether air-minded or not, to Brainerd and will give a decided stimulus to air travel in this area. Its markers, field location and condition, the recreational advantages afforded by a visit here, are now known to all the Northwest.

The evening of the first day of the Air Meet two of the fliers had taxi calls, as they term it, to take passengers from Brainerd to Winnipeg and others from Winnipeg through Brainerd to Minneapolis.

Brainerd is greatly appreciative of the advantages which this Air Meet has drawn and will in the future draw to Brainerd.

The Brainerd Ladies band, which sponsored the Air Meet program is to be commended for the work it has done in advertising Brainerd and the meet and assisting to make it such a signal success.

The Air Meet received the commendation of Thomas H. Canfield, secretary of the Minnesota State Fair who was an interested observer.

Treating "Frost Boils"

BELIEVING that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, the Minnesota Highway department this summer is giving special treatment to a number of short stretches of trunk highway to prevent frost boils occurring next spring. The total length of highway being treated is only about ten miles, but it is scattered all over the state and if successful, as the department hopes, it will leave several hundred miles of highway passable next spring which were blocked by frost boils last spring.

Frost boils are caused by soil which becomes unstable when excess moisture is present. They occur only where there is clay. Frost boils in sandy regions have been found only where there is a pocket of clay in the subgrade. When the frost has gone out of the ground 18 to 24 inches and there is excess moisture which cannot find an outlet through the frost underneath, heavy traffic will quickly churn the clay and water into an impassable mess. Frost boils do not occur on roads with very light traffic.

Attempts to cure frost boils after they break out have usually proven either very expensive or unsuccessful. Sometimes large amounts of gravel or cinders make the road passable, sometimes they only make matters worse. Thawing the subgrade with steam to furnish an outlet for the water has been tried, but this and other special devices are expensive and not always successful.

During the last two or three years, the Minnesota Highway department, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and several other state highway departments have studied road soils and experimented with cures. Last summer the Minnesota Highway department treated several short stretches which had been impassable in the spring of 1928. This year these stretches remained passable through the spring break-up. A larger number are being treated this year, but due to the necessity of budgeting maintenance funds for many needs, funds are not available to treat all roads affected with frost boils. More of this work will be done in 1930.

Frost boil prevention work requires either special drainage, reinforcement of the sub-grade, or a combination of the two. In some cases tiling alone is used. At other places trenches in the center of the road are excavated and filled with rock. A third method is to cut a depression in the center of the road with a tractor and heavy blade grader, back fill with gravel and replace the old surface material. The method used depends on the nature of the sub-grade and the material available in the vicinity.

Law Enforcement

It isn't fair or sensible, says Senator Barkley of Kentucky, to sit back and expect president, courts and congress to enforce the laws. Law enforcement depends on law observance, and that is a matter of the citizens of the country fulfilling their obligations says the Little Falls Daily Transcript.

"We are told that there are too many laws," remarks the senator, "that in the multiplicity of legislation we have lost our liberties." There are undoubtedly some laws on the statute books that might be dispensed with. But on the whole we enjoy about as much liberty as the complexity of modern life will permit.

"No man can deny to any other man the right to advocate the repeal of any law he thinks unwise. But I deny any man's right to violate any law and then use his own violations as evidence that it cannot be enforced."

Our laws, our constitutions, our whole body of government, are not self-operating machines. They have only the force given them by current opinion.

Soldier of Czar Don Cossack

Crack cavalrymen from the picturesque armies of Europe are carried among the many hundreds of riders with Miller Bros' famous 101 Ranch Wild West show which comes to Brainerd Friday, August 2, for two performances, matinee and night, and members of the world-famous Imperial Cossacks of the late Czar of Russia are numbered among them.

These intrepid veterans of the East Prussia campaigns twice daily risk their lives in displays of horsemanship equaled only by our own western cowboys.

Saving miles of walking

Can you imagine what shopping would be if there were no advertisements?

Suppose your list of needs included a morning dress, a pair of tan pumps, a set of those little silver salt and pepper shakers, some bath towels and a new awning for the porch. You would want each article, of course, in a particular color or shape or style; each at a price within a certain range. How would you go about finding them, with no advertisements to rely on?

Probably you would start at the "likely" stores and keep on and on, tramping up and down aisles, questioning sales people and floorwalkers, till your nerves were frazzled and your feet were sore.

Instead, you can sit down with the paper at home and find out in a few minutes just what stores are featuring the things you need. You know they will be dependable goods, at fair prices. With the advertisements as a guide you can plan your route, get your shopping done early, and have time for a movie or a chat with your friends.

Women who stay young use the advertisements to save steps.

MANAGER HEARS REPORTS OF PLAYERS BREAKING TRAINING RULES, TEAM LOSES 11-5

GAME MARRED BY ERRORS ON PART OF BRAINERD; HARMONY IN TEAM PLAY LACKING

Lester Peterson, manager of the Northern Pacific baseball team today threatened a shakeup of players in the team following the hectic game at Bemidji yesterday which the locals lost through errors and dissension on the part of the players by the score of 11 to 5.

Mr. Peterson said today that he had received reports of players breaking training rules and that it would be necessary to weed out the team before the Crosby game here next Sunday.

The locals played a bugged up type of baseball yesterday. Over-confidence on their part partly caused by their recent string of ten victories and underestimating the strength of the Bemidji team was blamed in part for the defeat.

Richmond was touched for 13 scattered hits with eight errors behind him.

Nutting had a perfect day at the bat getting two walks and two hits in four trips. Ringer and Hanson each got long triples.

Auger pitched fine baseball allowing nine hits and striking out 12 men. Auger and Johnson each collected three hits for hitting honors for Bemidji.

SCHMELING MAY BE NAMED AS SHARKEY'S NEXT OPPONENT

New York, July 22.—(UP)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight was expected to be named today as Jack Sharkey's opponent for a match in September, according to unofficial information from Madison Square Garden.

Today is the last date for the Garden to notify Sharkey, under the contract held with him, of his opponent.

With Schmeling barred in New York state until he fulfills a contract to meet Phil Beut of Erie, land at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, the proposed match probably will be held at Chicago, Detroit or Jersey City.

ATHLETICS INCREASE THEIR LEAD OVER YANKEES TO 10 1/2 GAMES

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
 (United Press Staff Correspondent)
 New York, July 22.—Major league teams today were speeding toward new battlegrounds.

The fourth interseasonal series opens with two preliminary battles today—Brooklyn at Pittsburgh in the National League and Cleveland at Philadelphia in the American League. For the next two weeks eastern National League teams will battle along the western front and the western American League teams will invade the eastern front.

The third interseasonal series which closed yesterday just about crowned the Philadelphia Athletics champions of the American League and narrowed the National League race down to two teams—the Pirates and the Cubs. Seven games behind the league leaders, the New York Giants are virtually out of the race unless they show a startling reversal of form soon.

Instead of losing ground in the west as many had anticipated when they dropped three out of four games in the first series of the trip at Chicago, the Athletics increased their lead over the Yankees to 10 1/2 games.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR SUIT AGAINST TUNNEY

JAMES S. FOGARTY ACCUSES THE BOXER OF ALIENATING AFFECTIONS OF WIFE

MRS. FOGARTY ALSO HAS HALF MILLION DOLLAR SUIT AGAINST BOXER

Bridgeport, Conn., July 22.—(UP)—James J. (Gene) Tunney was accused of alienation of affections and seduction in a suit for $500,000 damages brought in Fairfield county superior court today by the former husband of Mrs. Katherine King Fogarty, John S. Fogarty, Fort Worth, Texas, plumber.

Mrs. Fogarty's $500,000 breach of promise suit against the retired heavyweight boxing champion is pending in the same court.

In his complaint, Fogarty charged the boxer induced Mrs. Fogarty to obtain a divorce so she might marry him.

He further alleged Tunney and Mrs. Fogarty lived as man and wife.

Judge Charles J. Martin of New Haven, Fogarty's lawyer, said Fogarty had been considering a suit for "some time" but was unable to start action until the suit of his divorced wife gave him sufficient evidence. Fogarty is living in New Haven, according to his attorney.

The old colonial farmhouse in which Tunney and his wife, the former Mary Josephine Lauder, Greenwich society girl, will live in Stamford on their return from Europe, has been attached for $500,000 in connection with Fogarty's suit.

RACING RUNS IN THE BLOOD TOO

GARNER

HIS BROTHER

GUY IS STARRING IN EUROPE—MOST OF HIS RELATIONS ARE JOCKEYS AND IT HAS RUN IN THE FAMILY FOR FOUR GENERATIONS!

7/22

THOUGH there are many exceptions to the rule, athletic talent is often inherited in the manner that speed is almost regularly transmitted from one generation of thoroughbreds to another. "Blood will tell" is being testified daily on countless fields of sport, and nowhere more than on the water where rowing certainly tends to "run in the family."

At swimming, too, think what Ray Ruddy inherits from his dad! Columbia is now the gem of the rivers as well as the ocean, and naturally the acclaim proudly concerns "Young Dick" Glendon, coach of the oarsmen who study on Morningside Heights, New York City.

"Young Glendon," concedes the old-timer, "well, he's almost as good as 'Old Dick.' He's carrying on where his father left off. And his brother, Hubert, is another fine chip of the Glendon car, producing winners for those light-weight eights of Columbia after going through his dad's one-time paces by coaching the Annapolis

Then there's "Young Jim" Wray, Cornell freshman crew prexy up on Cayuga's waters, where his pater is head coach; and "Young Jim" Ten Eyck, who, with the Duluth Boat Club, reminded many of his father's coaching triumphs at Syracuse.

The waters are figuratively full of sons and grandsons who are carrying on the college crew traditions of their families. Eugenists may well go into ecstasies over that fact. The stalwart six-footers of one generation, who thrill regatta crowds, transmit much of their skill and physical fibre to their children.

The turf vies with rowing for those "family runs of class," one of the most conspicuous examples being the Garners, of whom Mack is probably best known to the public as a star jockey. Mack's five brothers are also skilled riders, as is one of his nephews.

The Garners can trace their racing blood right back to a great-grandfather, who was reputed to be the best jockey of his day in Ireland.

The father of the Garners actually booted home nine winners out of thirteen starts at Iowa fair grounds last Summer. "Pa" Garner was only 65 years old then.

Football and baseball are studied with the names of those whose fathers were one-time grid or diamond stars, and brothers who "have it in the blood." In both those national games, however, sons or nephews have failed usually to excel or equal the fame of their ancestral stars. But they carry on well enough to make it clear that, to a great degree, athletic prowess is inheritable.

Of course, in sports the most classic example of inherited genius for a given game is that of the Schaeffers, father and son. "Old Jake" was a marvel indeed, and "Young Jake" has carried on even more marvelously at billiards.

On the other hand, there are many, many exceptions to that "it runs in the family" belief. Yet, everything else being normal, the sons of great athletes should have their father's instincts for (if not as much success at) a given game.

"Blood will tell" to a considerable degree of efficiency in every line of human endeavor.

Shopping or Knitting Bag Made of Flour Bag

What woman does not warm up to a smart new shopping or knitting bag? Here is a new style that has many features to recommend it. The expanding bottom, for instance, makes it extremely commodious and yet does not detract from its smart, tailored appearance. There are no clumsy drawstrings nor handles, just a single strap, fastening at the bottom with a snap fastener. An outside pocket is provided for small change and handkerchief.

Best of all, this bag can be made for virtually nothing by the woman who has learned to use the empty flour bags which she has in the home or can get for a few cents from her baker.

Empty Flour Bag Makes Good Shopping or Knitting Bag.

Half a flour bag, a piece of sateen or other lining material, 28 by 14 inches, two yards of bias tape, and a small piece of contrasting material for the pocket and strap are the only materials required.

The stamping is removed either by soaking the flour bag in lard or kerosene for a few hours and then washing in warm water, or by using Javelle water. The material can be used effectively in its natural color, having contrasting material for the pocket strap and binding, or it may be dyed some dark color, since it takes an excellent dye.

The pattern is easily cut by following the dimensions and outline given in the illustration. First bind and stitch the pocket on the outside. Then sew up the sides. Next, lay the edges marked "A" parallel to that marked "B" and stitch. This forms the expanding fold at the bottom. Make the lining separate from the outside, and then put the two together, binding the top with the bias tape.

Lined with a piece of gum rubber instead of cloth, this bag affords an excellent means of carrying a bathing suit to and from the beaches in the summer.

Sweaters for Brides

Come in Solid Colors

Sweaters that will serve for trousseaus come in solid colors, violet, blue, light green, yellow, scarlet, to fit the scheme of the ensemble, some with geometric patterns, often artistically designed. The pull-on of jersey or knitted yarn or wool or silk is a popular model to wear with a skirt of tweed, jersey or crepe de chine.

Much white is worn this summer, and a chic sports ensemble includes a skirt, plaited or circular, with a sweater in color or white with decorative pattern or colored stripes, and a short white blazer. Some attractive models are shown in white with a color between the plaits. In the more formal sports ensembles the skirt is plaited.

Printed crepes, chiffons, volles and nylon frocks in pretty, inexpensive models for daytime and evening offer suggestions for the bride's summer wardrobe. Charming dance dresses are made of net, lace, point d'esprit, tulle, stiffened chiffon and mouseline de sole. The best designers have set the style in these materials and the models may be copied with variations.

Suits of silk or crepe are the fancy in the establishment of Patou where several models are made all of dotted silk, the polka dot design, especially of the small size, being very fashionable this year. Patou designs a one-piece frock and coat all of navy blue and white polka dot silk with a collar and jabot of white crepe and a white mouseline flower to be worn on the coat lapel.

The negligees, dear to the heart of a bride, use every sort of soft, sheer material, with much lace and marabout and ostrich. One graceful little ensemble worth copying in different colors is made with a slip of shell-pink crepe satin, and the loose wrap-around gown of chiffon in the same shade, with ecru lace on the sleeves, which are wide, and a scarf arrangement at the neck.

Amur River Zone Seethes With Troops

This map shows part of China and Siberia where only a spark is needed to set off the war fires. Thirty-five thousand Russian troops are along the trans-Siberian railway and 6,000 Soviet cavalymen are at Chita. Opposing them are 37,000 Chinese regulars of the Nationalist army. The Amur River, shown above, is reported to be the scene of clashes even now. (International Illustrated News)

The seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railway is reported to be the cause of the present crisis. Despite the massing of troops by both nations and the proclamation of martial law in Harbin, hope for a peaceful settlement is still felt at Nanking and Moscow. Germany has agreed to take over the diplomatic relations between each of the countries.

Hog Cholera Prevented

by Right Use of Serum

Let us not forget that hog cholera has not been entirely and completely eradicated in this country. Let us not forget also that the disease may be easily prevented by making pigs immune with the proper use of serum and virus. Let us keep in mind that after the disease gets a good start in a herd of pigs there is little that can be done to stop it. While we are at it let us be reminded that it costs less to immunize weanling pigs than 150-pound shoats. They are also more easily handled.

Feeding Orphan Lamb

If the orphan lamb cannot be given to another ewe, it may be raised satisfactorily on a bottle. Of course it is better to get another ewe to adopt the lamb if possible. When necessary to raise a lamb on a bottle, it will need to be fed several times a day at first. The number of feedings may be reduced until by the time the lamb is six weeks old, three or four times a day will be sufficient. A creep should be provided where some ground grain may be kept for the lambs.

LIVE STOCK

FAVORABLE TIME TO RAISE COLTS

Farmer Developing Own Power Has Low Cost.

If a farmer ever intends to raise a colt, now is a good time to do so, according to A. O. Rhoad of the New York State College of Agriculture. If the farmer raises colts now he will save money in a few years when he puts them to work in place of the horses he now has on his farm.

The farmer who grows his own power, says Mr. Rhoad, buys his own power at the lowest cost and pays for it on the instalment plan without interest. With the possible exception of a fee for stallion service the farmer does not have to take much money out of his pocket at present to produce his farm power. The farmer who breeds his mare to foal next spring and feeds the colt well will have a work horse that will cost him far less than one purchased on the market.

According to a recent survey made by C. E. Ladd of the college, 57 per cent of horses in New York state are more than twelve years old. The price of horses is increasing. Doctor Ladd also states that from two-thirds to three-fourths of the horses in New York state will be replaced during the next ten years, and that it is probable that they will be replaced at a time when it will cost New York farmers several millions more than it would today. This survey, "The Farm Horse Situation in New York," will be sent free to anyone who writes to the office of publication, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y., for $1.00.

Sweet Clover Disease Should Be Prevented

It is now definitely established and acknowledged that some specimens of moldy or spoiled sweet clover hay and silage produce a specific disease in cattle, the so-called "sweet clover poisoning," say L. M. Roderick, assistant veterinarian and A. F. Schalk, veterinarian, North Dakota Agricultural college.

Several experimental feeding trials with moldy sweet clover hay and silage in North Dakota have shown quite conclusively that the so-called poisoning is primarily a disease of cattle, particularly young animals a few months of age to two or three years old.

The trouble can be avoided in practically all cases, if small quantities of the moldy hay or silage are fed with two or three times as much other feed; or the spoiled clover can be fed safely if fed once every week or two.

Immunize Pigs

Baby pigs one month of age may be successfully immunized against cholera, according to the work of Graham, Thorpe and Heston, at the University of Illinois. Such practice is not generally recommended by veterinarians working under general farm conditions. The studies quoted indicate that other diseases constitute a complicating factor of growing importance in outbreaks of hog cholera. There is a saving of time and serum worth considering when pigs are vaccinated young.

Selecting a Sire

Thorough investigation should be made to measure the true worth of a bull in selecting a proved sire. The fact that a sire has a number of tested daughters is not adequate and may be no reliable measure of his worth.

A proved sire is considered to be one with five or six unselected daughters with records, preferably for one year. Tests show that a sire mated with a given type of cow will continue to produce similar daughters. If six of the daughters are good, the sire should be saved.

Live Stock Notes

All lambs should be docked and the ram lambs castrated.

The sheep man should gauge the feed given by the condition of the ewes, but it is always advisable to feed some grain for at least six weeks before lambing.

Bloating is to some extent an individual matter with the animals, some animals showing a much more frequent tendency to bloat than others, possibly because they are more greedy.

Farm ewes need exercise. Feed them so as to move them away from the barn lot.

Swine sanitation will result in saving a larger percentage of pigs and more economical gains for feed consumed.

It has been estimated that only 50 per cent of the pigs farrowed live to marketable age. It is commonly assumed that 80 per cent of all losses from diseases in swine may be charged to hog cholera.

GIRL RESCUED FROM LAKE, SUCCUMBS HERE

Mary Lively, 17, Passed Away From Pneumonia Brought on by Exposure in Water

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Walter Jordan, Farmer Boy, Had Saved Her and Two Sisters From Drowning July 13

Funeral arrangements were completed today for Mary Lively, 17, who died Saturday evening at the St. Joseph's hospital from pneumonia one week after she and her two sisters had been rescued from drowning by the heroic work of their cousin, Walter Jordan from an unnamed lake near North Long Lake.

Services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the Sylvan Community church at Sylvan, Rev. George Workman officiating. Interment will be at the Sylvan cemetery.

Mary who had been revived after two hours of unconsciousness after her rescue developed pneumonia from exposure in the water. Her two sisters, Ellen, 16, and Jennie, 12 who had been saved with her by the Long Lake farmer boy suffered little effects from the near triple drowning.

Jordan, who was in swimming at the time the three girls went down in the water as Mary and Jennie attempted to save Ellen who had fallen into a pocket in the lake made three trips back to the water to save the girls. After rescuing them he employed artificial resuscitation to revive them.

The three are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lively of Burbank, Calif., former Brainerd and Sylvan residents, who came here to vacation in the Brainerd lake region. Mary is also survived by a brother, Walter.

Nelson of Northwest Airways, Inc., A. M. Sampson of Wahpeton, N. D.

The Brainerd Ladies Band played several selections and were roundly applauded and given a rousing vote of thanks. Howard Melaney, the singing fireman of the Northern Pacific, gave two beautiful ballads, the accompaniment being played by Mrs. Ziebell. He had two more in store, but was called westward to fulfill an engagement in Montana.

Dispatch Popularity Contest
Miss Frances Butcher, second prize winner in the Brainerd Dispatch popularity contest, enjoyed her prize, the air trip from Minneapolis to Brainerd.

The winner of the first prize, H. A. Phillips, will leave early next week for Minneapolis and there board the Northwest Airways' passenger plane for Chicago and round trip home. Mr. Phillips is grateful to all buying tickets and voting for him, making it possible for him to win. He will take notes of his trip and write a story for the Dispatch upon his return.

HITCH-HIKE TO COAST

Cleveland Man Passes Through Cities, Covers Distance Here in Week

H. M. Bailey a young newspaper man of Cleveland, O., passed through Brainerd last Saturday en route to the west coast by way of Trunk Highway No. 2. He is hitch-hiking the entire distance and had covered the miles between Cleveland and Brainerd in the past week. He said he found Minnesota roads in good condition.

The following poem is one which Bailey wrote en route:

THE GUIDING STAR

I see in the heavens light above,
The guiding star of a mother's love;
That shows the way through darkest night,
With its cheery iridescent light.

When feet grow weary and faith is low,
It lights my path where'er I go,
My weary eyes look up to see
The mother love it holds for me.

All through this life of smiles and tears,
Down the long lane of all these years,
Its brightness ever shines above,
The guiding star of a mother's love.

Good St. Nicholas

St. Nicholas was the patron saint of Russia. He was the bishop of Myra in Lycia in the fourth century. He is regarded as the patron saint of merchants and travelers by sea and land, but also especially of the young and of scholars. Hence his festival, December 6, was formerly celebrated in the English schools, and still survives in the Santa Claus of Christian rejoicings.

JOHN WILLIAM ARO DIES AT ST. CLOUD

Passed Away Yesterday at Age of 26 Years; Was Born and Educated in Brainerd

FUNERAL RITES TUESDAY

To be Conducted From Home and Finnish Lutheran; Leaves Father, Three Brothers, Two Sisters

John William Aro, 26 years old, son of John Aro, 1509 Norwood street, passed away yesterday at St. Cloud.

Funeral rites will be conducted Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from the house and 2 o'clock from the Finnish Lutheran church, Rev. Niemi officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Mr. Aro was born in Brainerd December 13, 1912 and attended Brainerd schools.

He leaves besides his father, three brothers, Wilfred, Richard and Arthur, all of Brainerd and two sisters, Selma of Spokane, Wash., and Lila of Brainerd.

WOODROW

John Kalinski returned from Detroit, Mich., July 5 to look over his property here. He found that his building had been broken open and most of his personal property stolen including blankets, dishes and even the lids off from his range.

Elias Clark a former resident of Woodrow has been visiting at Ed Norgard's. He has returned to his home near Barrows where he is helping to run a small truck farm.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and children who formerly lived here spent the 4th visiting at J. P. Dullum's.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jay have left for the Canadian lake to camp there during the blueberry season and pick berries.

We hear that the Allbright interest in the mine has been bought by another party and this same party is trying to buy up other interests in the mine.

H. A. Olson moved Robt. Britton's furniture into the Will Britton's home recently.

A splendid crop of quack lines our road. This should be cut before it scatters its seed and spoils adjoining land. There are at least ten fields of quack near Woodrow for our weed man to inspect.

The Lyle Utley family has been tenting in Fred Hine's yard and visiting them. Mrs. Utley is Mrs. Hines sister.

The 4-H club met July 10 at Lum shores. They picnicked there.

Miss Helen Butler visited, Miss Lucile Dullum Sunday.

Oscar Pederson was home for the fourth to visit his relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Hoskin and Mr. and Mrs. M. Duncan were calling on relatives here Tuesday last.

Olaf Norgard visited Edw Dullum Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Norgard and family called at Ole Norgard's Tuesday evening last.

Anton Dullum and Donald Aspholm called Thursday at J. P. Dullum.

Wm. Schwindeman and sons William and Clarence were Woodrow callers Wednesday.

Miss Jaunita Larson from Duluth, Mrs. Peterson's niece has the chicken pox.

Mrs. Dan Peterson called at Dullum's Sunday.

The blueberry crop is a failure. What didn't freeze dried up.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Wisenberg and daughters visited at J. P. Dullum's Wednesday. Mrs. Dullum returned home with them to Sartell to visit relatives at that place and Sauk Rapids.

At our school meeting Tuesday evening Mrs. Art Fisher of Pine Shores was elected clerk. The sum of $2,496 was voted to run our one room school while it would have been possible to transport all children to Riverton for much less. In the Riverton school we would have had free tuition, the benefit of kindergarten, graded and high school with a chance to be taught home economics and music, and we would even have received free hot lunches during the cold months. All girls last year taking sewing received $2.50 to buy material. The state would even have given us aid for using good common sense.

PUBLIX MEN VISIT LOCAL THEATRES

City to Hear of Action of New Owners as to Improvements Next Saturday

RECOMMENDATIONS OFFERED

Construction Manager Said He Would Recommend $100,000 Improvements Here

Definite word as to whether Publix Theatres, Inc. new owners of all F. and R. theatres in the Northwest including the Brainerd theatres, will make improvements to the Park and Lyceum theatres here will be received next Saturday, according to officials of Publix theatres who came to Brainerd Saturday to look over the situation.

A. E. Buchanan, of New York construction manager of Publix theatres who in company with Harold Finkelstein, Minneapolis, formerly of the firm of Finkelstein and Ruben, said after inspecting the Park theatre that he would return to New York and recommend to his superiors the construction of a new theatre at the Park site to cost $100,000. He said he would notify Clem A. Ryan, president of the Chamber of Commerce what action would be taken by the officials at New York not later than Saturday. The visit was brought about through efforts of W. R. Hiller.

The visit to Brainerd by those connected with the Publix chain of theatres followed action of the city council at its last meeting that unless conditions were improved in Brainerd and work started on improvements by August 1 the licenses of both theatres would be automatically revoked.

Brainerd men who discussed the situation with the visitors were: R. H. Paine, president of the city council, Frank B. Johnson, Harry Greger, allermen, C. A. Ryan, and W. R. Hiller, manager of local theatres.

If favorable action is taken by the Publix heads work will start within the following week. In that event the new theatre would be completed for occupancy in three months.

IOWANS PREFER BRAINERD LAKES

Visitor Here Tells of Good Feeling of Neighboring State to This Section

IOWANS LEAD VISITORS

H. E. Van Essen, Mason City, Tells How Brainerd is Best Known City in Minnesota

Iowa people in general have a soft spot in their hearts for Brainerd and the lake region served by this city. So tells H. E. Van Essen, of Mason City, who with his party is a guest of his brother, Clarence Van Essen, proprietor of Van's Cafe, Brainerd.

"When Minnesota is mentioned in Iowa, Brainerd is immediately discussed. Your city has an exceptionally fine reputation throughout our state. It is even better known than Minneapolis and St. Paul," said Mr. Van Essen. "Iowa people are all boosters for Brainerd and the lake region here. They like your hospitality and they tell their friends about it when they return home. As a result the majority of Iowans give Brainerd and the lake region preference in selecting summer vacation sites."

The statement of Mr. Van Essen as to the popularity of this section with Iowa vacationists is attested to by the fact that thousands of Iowa people see Brainerd and the lakes each summer while hundreds have built summer homes in this district. Colonies of Iowa people have been established at various lakes.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Van Essen, Brainerd are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Van Essen and son, Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Spalding and children, of Chicago, Ill.

Regular Saturday Night Dance Draws an Immense Attendance

MANY FLIERS DANCE

Sunday Brings Many Visitors Who Had Also Been at Air Meet

The regular Saturday night dance at Lum Park given by Bob Block drew one of the largest crowds in the history of this series of dances. Jack Kane's orchestra played.

Many of the aviators who had attended the Aviation Dinner at the Ransford hotel motored to the park, enjoyed its cool breezes and attended the dance. Mr. Block said 208 couples were in attendance, this being the highest dance record ever recorded at the park.

During Sunday the park was visited by hundreds of strangers. They attended the Air Meet and then motored about the city and enjoyed recreation at the park. Mr. Block counted 35 cars in one delegation which came from New York Mills. Others including resorters came from about every state in the union.

The Skyscraper Murder

by SAMUEL SPEWACK

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

PHILLIP EDISON is host at a night-club party to his just-recently-divorced wife and Oliver Sewell, sportsman and Don Juan. Edison presumes that Sewell and the divorcee are to be married. When the party breaks up, Edison goes to Sewell's home and while he is waiting his return, is informed Sewell has been found dead. Inspector Marx begins a police investigation. He questions Sewell's Russian valet. The elevator operator is also questioned. He did not see Sewell return. A young medical examiner, with a taste for detective work, assists Marx. Their search of the apartment reveals complete wardrobes for women in different colors. In a safe-deposit box they find a scrap of paper bearing the inscription, "Paid in Full." The following day a Major Preston, who has been a sporting associate of Sewell's, is interrogated. Then Sewell's widow visits the apartment. She intimates that Preston might know something.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER VIII.
"Let me understand you," begged the doctor. "In to such ladies as came here, there was another individual living with Mr. Sewell—presumably a woman."

"Yes, I think so."

"Because you always made breakfast for two."

"And lunch and dinner also. And sometimes when Mr. Sewell went out, he would instruct me to make the meal just the same."

"And to whom would you serve it?"

"I was instructed to leave it on the table on the terrace."

"And didn't you ever look to see who took up the food?"

"Yes, but I couldn't. When I looked, either the food and the tray were still there, or suddenly they were gone."

"Yeah. Now suppose somebody was living here. Where could they hide?"

"That I do not know. I have told you everything I know. I thought Mr. Sewell did not want me to see the person who was living with him. And in Russia, I have learned it is always best not to know too much."

He bowed, and made his way back to the corridor, and to his room.

The doctor rose from his chair, chucking.

"Marvelous!" he enthused. "This case has sidelights that are positively fascinating. An unknown second person lives in this home of mystery. A healthy normal person, apparently, who eats three meals a day, and yet remains invisible. And presumably this shadowy eater has no more. She has vanished with the murder. Do you see the possibilities, Inspector?"

"I don't see a damn thing," snapped Marx.

"But you see the possibilities, don't you?" insisted the doctor. "Think! What would Sewell be doing with a second person—man or woman—whom he was determined to hide from the world?"

"I'll answer that," growled Marx, "when you answer the other questions we haven't tackled yet. How did Sewell get up here? How did the guy who bumped him off get out of here? How—"

Marx stopped short. He was facing the left wall of the mirror. Now he blinked as the lower half of the mirror swung open, as if it were a door. A young woman in a blue afternoon tea gown tottered forward.

The doctor stepped quickly towards her.

"Mrs. Edison, I believe?"

"Yes," the girl managed to reply. And then she sank into the chair and buried her head in her hands.

"What are you doing here?" Marx found his voice. For he was still staring at the newly discovered mirror-door that walled up an alcove.

"Oh—God—I don't know!" she groaned. She stared at Marx.

"Are you a detective?"

"Yes," confirmed Marx. "And we've been looking for you."

The girl rose quickly.

"I didn't kill him! I didn't kill him, I tell you. I loved him! I—"

The girl swayed, and fell back in her chair. The doctor said she had fainted.

"Now, Mrs. Edison," began the doctor, "there are certain things that my friend here wants explained—and only you can explain them."

The young woman held a steaming cup of coffee in trembling hands, and she sipped the black liquid gratefully.

"What I want to know is," amended Marx, "exactly where you went after the three of you left the night club."

"And how you came here," added the doctor.

"And how you came here," interposed Marx.

The two men waited for her. She looked at Marx carefully. He interpreted the glance correctly.

"You don't have to worry about anything if you tell the truth," Marx assured her. "If you don't, there'll be trouble."

The young woman leaned back and closed her eyes as if in pain.

"It's so frightful," she whispered, half to herself. "I can't."

"Now, come on," prompted Marx. "You and Sewell left the club in a taxi."

"Yes. We drove to my hotel. I got out there to get my things. I was checking out."

"Oh!"

The girl's eyes were downcast. "I know what you're thinking. But it doesn't matter to me. I loved him. I was mad about him. I'd give up anything for him. And he loved me!" she lifted her eyes defiantly. "He did! As soon as he was free of his wife he was to marry me. Until then I didn't care."

"All right," said Marx easily. "You checked out of the hotel."

"Yes. And the taxi drove around to the next street and I got back into the taxi, and we drove off for the apartment." She stopped.

"Mr. Sewell felt we were being followed. That's why he drove around to the other entrance."

"Who was following you?"

"I didn't believe it at first, but I looked back and I saw my husband in another cab."

"Uhuh," Marx nodded. "Go ahead."

"But we lost him. And then we came here."

"Now wait a minute," interrupted Marx. "Everybody in this building swears nobody came up here that night."

"They're rather careless downstairs," she said after a pause. "Sewell didn't want them to see us. So he waited until—until they weren't looking."

"And then?"

"And then we walked up here."

"Walked up?" repeated Marx. "We went very slowly."

"Go on," said Marx, after a pause.

"We got in," continued the girl. "and—"

"Now let's have everything that happened!" commanded Marx, leaning forward.

"Well, he went to the butler's pantry and he mixed a cocktail and we drank. And then I sat down here—pointing to the chair which the doctor occupied. "And then we began to talk."

"Anything on his mind? Was he worried about anybody?"

"No. He seemed very happy. And then suddenly, while we were talking, the lights flickered and then went out. We were in the dark. I screamed. But I felt someone near me and a hand over my mouth, and then I had a feeling of being dragged and a door closing on me. Then I heard a shot. But I was still in the dark. I couldn't see anything. I couldn't hear anything. The girl rose as she enacted the terror of that night."

"Then it seemed hours, but everything was still, and I kept groping around, and then I got hysterical and began beating on the wall. I thought it was a wall. But it was a door. And I opened it. And somehow I found the switch, and I turned on the lights and—"

"She fell back in her chair. "He was dead."

"In this chair here?"

"Yes."

"What did you do then?" demanded Marx.

"I was half mad. I screamed and cried, and then I heard some one coming in. And I realized I'd be in a terrible mess. I tried to get out through the terrace, but I heard the outer door opening. So I put out the lights and I ran into this room back of the mirror. And I just waited and waited. But I couldn't get away. There's been someone here all the time. Finally I couldn't stand it any more. I just ran out and—"

She slumped in her chair, helpless but furtive. Her eyes looked up at Marx speculatively.

"Mrs. Edison," began Marx, "are you sure that you heard nothing, saw nothing that night?"

"I tell you I didn't," protested the girl.

"Did you hear the steps of the person who dragged you? Did you feel the arm, the hand? Was it a man or a woman?"

"I was too frightened. I think it was a man. It must have been."

"And when you put the lights up again Sewell was dead and sitting in that chair?"

"Yes."

"And," intervened the doctor, "for a day and a night you waited in that room?"

"Yes."

"Shall we take a look at that room, Inspector?" asked the doctor, rising. "It's a rather unusual room, to say the least."

Marx got up. The doctor walked to the mirror.

"It's the secretary that fooled us," the doctor said, grasping an ornamental knob that seemed part of the furniture, but was in reality the knob of the door.

"Now, what have we here?"

The room they entered was an alcove, equipped with a skylight ceiling for light and air. A table, an old couch, a bookshelf and a bridge lamp comprised the furniture.

"What did Sewell use this room for?" asked the doctor.

"I don't know," the girl replied. "I never dreamed there was a room back of the mirror, and I know the apartment well."

"While you were in this room," asked the doctor, "what did you do?"

"I lay on that couch there. I just waited. I couldn't do anything."

"You found nothing to eat, I take it?" The doctor put the question casually, as if one could find food in a hidden alcove.

"I was too upset to think about food," the girl laughed shortly. "I was mad. I tell you. I can't talk about it. Just lying here and waiting, and all the time the picture of him out there."

"And wondering how'd you get out of the mess," concluded the doctor.

TO LEGALLY MAKE 2,000 GALLONS OF BOURBON AND RYE

Washington, July.—(UP)—Preparations were going forward at the treasury today to authorize manufacture during 1930 of 2,000,000 gallons of bourbon and rye whiskey for prescription by licensed physicians for medical purposes.

Manufacture of the whiskey, the first to be produced since prohibition is necessary to replenish existing stocks in bonded warehouses which aggregate 9,549,017 gallons. By next January 1, when the new manufacture will begin, stocks on hand will be reduced by use and evaporation to about 8,500,000 gallons, it was estimated.

As medicinal whiskey requires four years aging before use, the treasury feels production must begin soon to allow time for aging.

IT IS ORDERED That the time within which all creditors of the above named decedent may present claims against said estate in this Court, be, and the same hereby is, limited to three months from and after the date hereof; and that October 21st, 1929, at 10 o'clock A. M., in the Probate Court Rooms at the Court House at Brainerd, in said County, be, and the same hereby is, fixed and appointed as the time and place for hearing upon and examination, adjustment and allowance of such claims as shall be presented within the time aforesaid.

Let notice hereof be given by the publication of this order in The Brainerd Daily Dispatch, as provided by law and by mailed notice as provided by the rules of this Court.

Dated July 15th, 1929. (Probate Court Seal) L. R. KINDER, Probate Judge.

PER M. LARSON, Attorney.

Man of Proper Training

Give me a man so trained in mind that his body is the ready servant of his will, and does with ease and pleasure all the work that, as a mechanism, it is capable of.—Thomas H. Huxley.

Zonite

For Cuts and Wounds

Prevent infection! Treat every cut, wound or scratch with this powerful non-poisonous antiseptic. Zonite actually kills germs. Helps to heal, too.

With the use of Nujol you can do it too. For Nujol absorbs body poisons and carries them off, preventing their absorption by the body. Nujol also softens the waste matter and brings about normal evacuation. It is harmless; contains no drugs or medicine. It won't cause gas or griping pains, or affect the stomach or kidneys. Every corner druggist has Nujol. Make sure you get the genuine. Look for the Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay, get Nujol today.
